In this hadith (sahih) there is a great question: Why were there lines of flowers from the legs of the believers at the Ka'aba? [Example: In the hadith it says there were a line of decorated girls from the right hand side of the Ka'aba, and a line of boys and men from the left hand side, and it says when the Prophet came to the Ka'aba, the boys and men left their positions and came down and stretched themselves along the lines of the girls and women. (There is a hadith in Musnad Al-Imam Ahmad that says that the Prophet came to the Ka'aba with a stick and people scattered.)] A: According to your reference, in the seventh year of Hijrah, the Companions of the Prophet were ordered to recite Surah al-Kahf at the Kaaba (once for the whole day), and to make their prayers in it. Surah al-Kahf is probably this, for it was revealed in the Western part of the Kaaba. ﴿نُزِّلَ وَالْأَمْثَلُ فِي مَهْرَبِ نَوْمٍ وَنُزِّلَتْ أَمْ﴾ published:15 Nov 2017 views:25323 Take a tour of TrainTown, where players control a robot through a high-speed, collecting as many coins as possible and avoiding falling blocks. See how far you can travel in this popular arcade puzzle game. For other famous Robot! titles, please visit our game hub: Take a look insideTrainTown, a brand new locomotive simulator game! Battle rust and dirt in exciting and unpredictable train challenges. Defeat the engineer in the final showdown to be the last locomotive train in the game! Train SimulatorTime Attack Gameplay mode plays out as if you are the train driver and you have to complete the map you're on in as few engine cycles as possible. But it's a lot more than that as you can expect the unexpected, you have to drive carefully and learn to read the landscape. It's a game of cat and mouse, where the driver is the cat and the engine cycles are the rodent. At the end of each map is a big, special finale train which is the engine cycle you have to defeat to get your achievement. The train tracks are only visible in some areas and will be displayed only when you're in that area. In Time Attack gameplay mode every challenge can only be completed on one map until you get a new engine with which to tackle a new map. This is a very fast-paced game of survival and you need to find all the secret paths in a map that the driver won't be expecting. Read the environment carefully and do your best to find every hidden tunnel. But don't get overwhelmed! The tracks will appear slowly once you're in a new area. The risk is always high: missing a track means a broken up engine and no chance of winning. If you happen to run on a train line that passes through an electrified track in the track cycle mode, you have to avoid being shocked to save your engine from being destroyed. This is not only great fun but also a good workout for your train driving skills. There are driving challenges, where the goal is to reach a certain distance and time at top speed. In these challenges the obstacles don't affect the speed of your train but it's a good test of your skills! In the main game you can choose between three trains: the Velocir

What's new in After Dark VR:

with a great game, great community and one of the best sites on the web. New Products I really haven't had much time to play with yet. Just got the game yesterday. I assume I can manage nice graphics. I'll post shortly on my experiences with the simulator. Critical Mass Yay! From here on we have our own Critical Mass thread. No content allowed here in this section unless I decide to post it here. Introduction Hi, I'm nauticus and I'm a free lance Game Painter and Level Designer. I have been working with Unreal Engine 3 for about 2 years now, and I'd like to do Game Art / level design in GameLife. I'm currently at work on a project where I'm artist/level designer/everything in a person and don't have time for freelancing. References I've seen my fair share of Game Designers and Game Artists, and I can say that there are some very good, intelligent and creative people I've met here in the GameLife community. One of the Game Artists I've gotten a chance to collaborate with is SquareOnRobotics. We got this great idea about a shooter game that had a concept art style, and I came up with a basic style and he really helped me bring it to life. My great friend, BoxCord, does a lot with designers and artists and he suggested SquareOnRobotics to me, if you want to check him out he's gregory{at}squareonrobotics.com I've also gotten to work with M-E.G, who's a Designer and Level Designer. He's the designer of the ENTIRE Farm Constellations game, and someone who really helped me realize that GameLife isn't just a crash course for people who want to game or make levels. I spent many a night reading up on the game's code so that I can possibly take things over and start expanding on it. And thus far in my time here I'm learning very much, and am finding that my ideas, and some of the programmers / level designers ideas, are colliding in some really great ways. My Project: I'm currently working on a project called 'Big Bad Sheep.' It's an Educational FPS, aiming for an 18 year old to 45 year old audience. The idea came to me when I was contacted for a local OC band and asked to make a game
